INDIAN RUNNERS BRING MESSAGE OF LOST ARMEN

Fighting Their Way Thru
Blinding Snow, Balloonists
Are Expected Tonight.

(By the Associated Press.)
MATTICE, Ontario, Jan. 11.—The three American naval balloonists, Lieut. Pangel, Hinton and Kloor, broke camp at Skunk Island, 20 miles north of this town, early today and started on the last leg of their long trek back to civilization, according to reports brought here by Indian runners. If all goes well the trio should reach this little frontier settlement by nightfall and a royal welcome awaits them.

Out of Blank North

MATTICE, Ontario, Jan. 11.—Tidings have come out of the bleak north of the progress of the three American naval balloonists trekking slowly back to civilization from Moose Factory, where they landed on December 14, after a perilous flight from Rockaway, New York.

Continued absence of information did not alarm the experienced trappers in this section. They said the Americans and their Indian guides undoubtedly were slowed up by the established fact that Lieutenant Stephen A. Farrell, the eldest of the trio, had to be carried on a sled, as his feet were badly frost bitten.

Under ordinary circumstances, the airman might have made this place two days ago.

The weather today is unusually mild for this season of the year, the temperature rising to ten degrees below zero yesterday. Some of the more optimistic watchers here believed the airman would emerge from the wilds before nightfall.

ATTENDANCE AT WOMEN'S COLLEGE ON THE INCREASE

CHICKASHA, Jan. 10.—The Oklahoma State College for Women, declared by its president, G. W. Austin, to be the only state sustained institution for women in the mid-west, shows in his report from September, 1919, to December 1, 1920, to have increased its enrollment from 189 at the time the institution was opened in 1913, to more than 300 at the time of submitting his report, made public here today.

The appropriation by the state legislature for its maintenance in 1913 was given at $23,600, while the appropriation at the last session was listed at $78,550. The appropriations for buildings, which include two dormitories, an administration building and residences, total $388,000. The last appropriation was made in 1919 for $76,000.

With a faculty of 15 teachers at the time the institution was started, the number of instructors now teaching in the college is 42. Sixty-five counties in the state are represented.

The only charge made to students who enroll in the college is a sum for board. There are no tuition charges. President Austin said that applicants have already been refused for the 1921-22 term because of lack of facilities to accommodate them.

CONFERENCES END BETWEEN LLOYD GEORGE AND IRISH

(By the Associated Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Conferences between Rev. Michael O'Flanagan, acting president of the Sinn Fein, and Premier Lloyd George have been broken off and will not be resumed, says the Daily Mail. Before Father O'Flanagan returned to Ireland on Friday night he had a long conversation with the premier and the outcome is said to be described in official quarters as "not as satisfactory as could be hoped."

Peace negotiations have not altogether broken down, the newspaper adds, but Father O'Flanagan will not be a party to further exchanges.

Tonight and Wednesday probably unsettled. Colder tonight in south-east portion. Wednesday temperature 10 to 24 in north and 20 to 30 in southern portion.

SNOW AND COLD MEANS SUFFERING FOR POOR

When most of the folks in Ada opened their eyes this morning and looked out of the window, a blanket of white covered the earth. One look at the drifting snow and the vast sheet of white, and they turned to the warmth of the fire in the room and jumped into their warmest togs, anxious to get out.

But to one who gazed upon the snow this morning, the scene meant woe.

It was but yesterday that Mrs. Orville Sneed, secretary of the United Charities association and home service secretary of the Red Cross here, was directed to a family living right here in Ada who are practically destitute. The father is out of work, and is sick from worry. He was in bed when Mrs. Sneed called. She found the mother with but a single garment to keep her body warm, and barefooted. Two little children—twins—2 years old, were barefooted and half-clothed. Three others sat around in their miserable abode, cold and hungry. The oldest boy is 16.

Mrs. Sneed at once ordered food for them, and had a doctor visit the father. She sent out a few pieces of warm clothing for the mother and little children.

When Mrs. Sneed gazed upon the blanket of white this morning, she thought of this poor family, and wondered how many more there are like this one who suffer when it is cold.

Day after day, a train of pathetic incidents in the life of Ada and Pontotoc county are brought to light in Red Cross headquarters here. Page after page, this human interest story unfolds, true to life and picturing misery, suffering, hunger, want and cold.

And through all the pages, we see the gentle touch of charity, dropping a word of cheer and encouragement, lending a helping hand, pointing out the right way and sending despairing souls on with fresh hope.

Mrs. Sneed wants to help the despairing father and the boy find work. If you need a strong, able boy or man who is anxious to work, you will be doing much toward helping the mother and little ones if you will just phone Mrs. Sneed at Red Cross headquarters.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Deportation of Donald O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who arrived at Newport News last week as a stowaway and without a passport, was requested of the department of labor today by acting Secretary Davis of the state department.

Mr. Davis' request was in writing. He quoted as his authority for acting, a proclamation issued by President Wilson on August 18, 1918, designating the secretary of state as the one who shall decide whether an alien coming under passport regulations should be admitted or denied admission to the country.

Washington, Jan. 11.—Donald O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who arrived in the United States as a stowaway and in whose case the state department has refused to waive the passport requirements, is to appear Thursday before the committee of the House of Representatives investigating conditions in Ireland.

This decision is not expected to be rendered for several days, and in the meantime state department officials said, the lord mayor will have accomplished the purpose for which he came to America, that of testifying before the committee of the House of Representatives.

beside the lord mayor other witnesses expected to appear, were: Chairman Dempsey of the Urban Council of Malabar, Ireland; John MacSwiney, brother of the late lord mayor of Cork, who accompanied O'Callaghan to the United States; Emil Peyold, an American sailor on the steamer West Cannon, on which O'Callaghan came to this country, and which was at Cork when that place was burned; and Thomas Nolan, an Irishman, who witnessed the Croke Park shooting.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—The legal right of the state department to issue an order for deportation of Lord Mayor O'Callaghan of Cork, requested today by acting Secretary of State Davis, will be contested in the courts, if necessary, counsel for the lord mayor announced here today.

ROBBER SHOT BY POLICEMAN DIES IN TULSA

(By the Associated Press.)

TULSA, Jan. 11.—Frank "Vin" Palmer, 30, shot Saturday night by Police Captain George Blaine, when he attempted to rob the cashier at a dance in the Elks club, died today. His home is in Amsterdam, N. Y. He was a machinist and had been here for two months, the last one being spent largely at planning and pulling robberies, according to his story, and the confession of Walter Wallis, his companion, who is in jail.

BANK MESSENGER SLUGGED' BANDITS GET $40,000 LOOT

Holdup Men Make Getaway
in Heart of Kansas City
Business District.

(By the Associated Press.)

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 11.—Two bandits slugged a messenger just as he was emerging from the Produce Exchange bank here today, seized a satchel containing $20,000 in cash and $3,000 in checks and made their escape in an automobile. The messenger, who was not seriously injured, fired three shots at the bandits, but without effect. The bank is located in the center of the wholesale district near the city market.

Although the holdup business has been brisk in Kansas City for some time, today's robbery was the most successful since the seizure from a Swift & Co. messenger of a $40,000 payroll several months ago.

FLAKES FLURRY, SNOWY BLANKET ENVELOPES STATE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 11.—Light snow flurries have been general over the state with the prospect of further flurries today, it was announced at the weather bureau.

With the exception of light snows in the panhandle district of the state, however, there has been no snowfall of proportion. Another dip in the temperature is forecast for tonight and Wednesday, with temperatures ranging from 12 to 20 degrees in the northern part of the state and 20 to 28 in the southern portion. "Continued cold weather for a day or two," is the forecast.

JAP COLONIST IS TOLD TO MOVE ON

(By the Associated Press.)

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Jan. 8.—B. R. Kato, a Japanese colonist, from California, arrived in Brownsville at noon today. He was met at the train by a committee of American Legion, Chamber of Commerce, retail merchants association, and farmers' organizations and told to leave within 48 hours. He promised to do so.

Kato was told that public sentiment made it impossible for Japanese to colonize here. Trouble was probable if the Japanese persisted, Kato was told.

MOVIE DREAM' GIRLS COME BACK TO EARTH

KANSAS CITY, Jan. 5.—Dreams of becoming cinema stars are being shattered today in the minds of scores of girls throughout the mid-west as a result of the bursting of an alleged promotion bubble known as the International Pictures corporation.

The scheme, according to officers, was simple. An advertisement placed in an eastern theatrical magazine asked for chorus girls and three war criminals convicted, respectively, to five and four years' penal servitude and two years' imprisonment. The men were accused of having looted an inn at Edinburg, Belgium, in October, 1918. The accused, who were engineers, did not figure in the allied extradition list, but were tried under the German law of December 5, 1919.

Drive in Full Swing For Chamber of Commerce

Snow No Holdback To Men Who Go After New Members.

The snowflakes were flurry-ing down to envelop the earth with a mantle of white this morning, but snow or no snow the drive is on for the Chamber of Commerce. The committee of solicitors was on hand promptly this morning, and the city will be thoroughly canvassed for members so that all may have a chance to help in the good work of pushing Ada to the fore.

The committee is composed of business men who have left their offices and work to help the city's cause. Be ready to join when they call on you.

It was not a dream city, conceived only in imagination and impossible of attainment, which Nelson S. Darling held up to his audience at the Normal auditorium last evening, but a real, man-made, woman blest city after the fashion of many others which now exist, and challenge with their accomplishments the admiration of the world.

The speaker was here at the invitation of the chamber of commerce to help instill new life in the cause of that civic organization by pointing out to the citizens of Ada the wonderful things which can be accomplished only through the co-operation and teamwork of those who wish to see the city become the peculiar center of a more home-loving, healthy, happy, industrious citizenry, from which would radiate to all parts of the state the story of civic achievement and progress.

It was a wonderful lecture, and the audience was attentive and responsive, but the real measure of the effectiveness of his remarks will be judged, not from the applause, which the speaker received, but from the practical results which follow today, tomorrow and on down through the days and years to come.

After declaring that the chamber of commerce was the only organization through which all of the people could work for the upbuilding and advancement of the city along all lines, and pointing out many instances of the practical work which has been done elsewhere by their live, energetic aid to date methods, the speaker said that every man in the city who wished to see Ada improve, whether merchant, professional, clerk, or laborer, should join the chamber of commerce and help to do the things which need to be done.

"There is no middle ground," declared Mr. Darling, "the business men of Ada are either for the city against it, and if they refuse to join hands with those who would better conditions, they should be boycotted."

Concerning the general business conditions of the country, Darling said: "The hammering down of prices is about over with; in fact, men who know say that some merchandise is being sold for lower prices than will prevail in the city."

"The leveling process is about over. The merchant will soon be in the market for goods, and when he starts buying a goodly portion of the unemployed will be back at work. There will be an increased exportation of American products."

"People have learned the lesson of extravagance, and the spirit of thrift is in the air. Pessimism is giving way to a sane optimism, and summer should find the readjustment period about over. With increased exports, re-employment, followed by an increasing demand for the articles of manufacture, will have a tendency to raise the price of farm products, allowing the farmer to do so."

Kato was told that public sentiment made it impossible for Japanese to colonize here. Trouble was probable if the Japanese persisted, Kato was told.

No Frills, Says Harding When He is Sworn In

(By the Associated Press.)

MARION, Jan. 11.—If President-elect Harding has his way, the inauguration of March 4 next will be devoid of frills as a frontier wedding. Having overturned plans for a revival of the inaugural ball and a spectacular inaugural parade, he indicated today that so far as keeping consistently close he would keep away from whatever crowds gathered in Washington for the event and made the change of administration a matter of taking the executive office under management.

The president-elect's preference was made known in telegrams sent last night to inaugural officials in Washington asking in the interest of public thrift that the ball and parade and every other show of pomp and festivities be omitted. Instead of taking the oath from a specially built platform on the capitol steps, he suggested that it be administered quickly within the capitol itself, and that then he be left free to go to work without more ado.

The time honored custom of delivering an inaugural address is to be retained as a part of the day's ceremonies, but it is considered likely here that it will be very brief and couched in general terms.

By his action the president-elect ended a bitter row in congress, where several influential republicans had protested vigorously against the plan of the inaugural committee to make the occasion one of the biggest quadrilateral celebrations the capitol had ever seen.

DANIELS WANTS U. S. TO HAVE GREATEST NAVY

Harding To Consider the Disarming of All War Machines.

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—Views of officials of the state army and navy department or world disarmament were sought today by the house naval committee. Chairman Butler only recently had a conference on the subject with President-elect Harding at Marion.

Acting Secretary Davis of the state department told the committee, when asked as to his views regarding the sincerity of the nations in their efforts to bring about reduction of armament, that he could only say that the powers which had subscribed to the covenant of the League of Nations had manifestly indicated their sincere desire to reduce armament.

The secretary added that he felt, in his advocacy of the League of Nations, that he had taken all necessary steps toward disarmament and that this accounted for the fact that President Wilson had not called a disarmament conference, as he was authorized to by an act of congress.

Secretary Daniels told the committee that if President-elect Harding sought his advice he would urge him to call such a conference on March 5. Unless that conference produced a permanent disarmament agreement by all nations, Daniels said the United States should continue to build a navy second to none. He characterized various naval holiday proposals as "half measure."

General Tasker H. Bliss, formerly American representative on the supreme war council and one of the American peace delegates to Paris, was present and ready to give his views to the committee.

NO-CHRISTMAS' JUDGE LOSES HIS POSITION

WEST ORANGE, N. J., Jan. 5.—

Police Recorder John B. Lander, republican, who sentenced three mischievous boys to forego Christmas presents and then released, lost his job today.

The town council, also republican, named Willard Meeker to the position although Lander in a caucus had been recommended for re-appointment.

Lander incurred displeasure of West Orange residents by his sentence of the three boys. He directed every night at 6 o'clock for a month and not to permit them to receive Christmas gifts.

When petitioned to revoke the sentence in that it was too severe Lander announced his heart had softened and struck out that part sentence had influenced them in naming Meeker.

Members of the council denied the referring to Christmas.

"My defeat is due to politics," nothing else," said Lander.

'FREE AGE' EDITOR ESCAPES FROM KIDNAPPERS

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 8.—Jacques Villard, feature editor of the "Free Age," who disappeared in Chicago December 27 last, arrived at his home here this morning. Mr. Villard refused to make a statement, but detectives announced he had been detained in Chicago by kidnapers.

Villard, according to detectives, was the man who cried out for assistance in a remote district of

$40,727 FIRE DAMAGE IN MUSKOGEE IN 1920

MUSKOGEE, Jan. 10.—Property valued at $5,264,060 was endangered by fire in Muskogee during 1920, but only $46,727 worth was lost, according to the annual report of C. L. Chapman, fire chief, as sent to R. P. Harrison, city manager.

The fire department answered 529 calls, seven being false alarms during the year and actually worked 384 hours and 27 minutes extinguishing the flames. The department's travel 14,732 blocks in going to and from fires, used 47,250 feet of hose, 949 feet of ladders and 7657 gallons of chemicals.

An interesting circular issued by the College of Agriculture gives the average cost of producing a bushel of wheat in Missouri this year as $3.26 and that it cost the Missouri farmer 82 cents a bushel to produce the 1920 oats crop.

ment he attended. At social affairs it was a custom for courtiers to watch Louis, and when he was high in good humor asks such favors as they wished.

Marie La Volle, a sweet and demure little country girl of good family, desired to save her lover who was under sentence of death. She appealed to the king, and he assured her that at the end of the dance he would give the requested orders.

But pretty Marie was afraid he would forget his promise, as he often did, so she plotted a way to keep herself in his memory. When he began to kiss the women, Marie put herself in his way, and offered her ripe young lips with a smile. The kiss was no sooner over than the king looked sharply at her, but made no comment. She had daubed her lips with a rouge in which was a stinging drug, that while it created no great annoyance, stayed by the royal lips for hours. When the pardon was delivered to her it was accompanied by a note that read: "A better rouge may be bought in Paris."

GUARD PROTECTS KOH-I-NOOR.

Apparently it is the English custom to award the post of jewel keeper of the jewel house to a retired soldier of distinction. He enjoys the position of having "no superior officer in court or kingdom." Yet there is a humorous side to his position which none would appreciate more than an old soldier.

The present holder of the office, Maj. Gen. Sir George Younghusband, in his recent books tells the story of Koh-i-noor. After its discovery in the diamond fields Golconda, southern India, it passed through many rulers' hands, going first to the moguls, then to the shah of Persia, then to the ameer of Afghanistan and finally to Runjett Singh, "the Lion of Punjab," till he was defeated by the East India company, when, among the spoils of war, it passed to the British army and was intrusted to the care of Sir John Lawrence. He having "many and great matters on his mind, beside which a diamond was of small import, wrapped the stone up in a piece of paper, put it in his pocket and forgot all about it." Thence his Indian servant transferred it to Sir John's office box, where it was found when it was desired to present it to Queen Victoria.

Then, Sir George says, it was deposited with "someone who had nothing else to think about, and a guard of soldiers to help him do so."—Christian Science Monitor.

What Others Say

Miami News: Artistic temperament doesn't always interfere with an appetite for sausage and wheat cakes.

Pawhuska Capital: The man who is smoking the cigars his wife bought him for Christmas may be regarding the anti-tobacco crusade with more tolerance.

Pawhuska Capital: Some folks may be too modest for their own good, but a lot of others are sufficiently different to strike an average.

Muskogee Phoenix: Half of the people hate a reformer because he threatens their pleasures, and the other half because he threatens their purses.

Muskogee Phoenix: When your car is stolen, there is one consolation. You know the darned thief will be trimmed when the time comes to fill the tank.

Shawnee News: Miami is to have a Carnegie library if plans are carried out. Let us hope that it will be used after they get it.

Lawton Constitution: Well, the legislature is in session—but as yet they have not had time to accomplish anything, and they likely won't have. Already there is talk of an extra session. Looks like a little less debate and a little thinking among legislators would accomplish much.

Lawton Constitution: Now that Clara Smith is resting at her home, the balloonists have been located in Canada, most of the bank robberies for the week have been announced, a few shortages covered—what will we start off Monday morning with.

Shawnee News: Let us hope that the rumor that John Hays Hammond, the million dollar a year engineer, who is really somewhat of a dilettante so far as politics and statesmanship are concerned, is not to be the Fidus Achates of the Harding administration.

Okemah Ledger: Yet, amid all these bank lootings and other big robberies, we have not learned of a single newspaper man being the victim of highwaymen, which we think suggests that men with money, especially the banks, should be more liberal patrons of the newspapers. Then we might get into the class of robbers victims.

THE REINCARNATION

KANSAS VETERANS WOULD OUST LEAGUE

(By the Associated Press.)
SALINA, Kansas, Jan. 10.—Lines were drawn sharply here today in the contest arising over the bringing to Kansas of the Non-Partisan League.

While A. C. Townley, head of the league, was conducting mass meetings for those interested in the movement, in another building not far away, representatives of the American Legion from all parts of the state, together with others opposing the movement, were making plans for a state-wide organization to check the league's activities and bring about the departure from the state of those behind it.

Plans for the opposition were not announced definitely, but it was understood that a campaign of "education" would be the basis and that the anti-league organization would flood the state, especially the rural districts, with literature attacking the league's principles and its alleged unpatriotic conduct during the war.

Light Company Proud of New Office Arrangement

Employees of the Oklahoma Light & Power Co. are proud of the new office arrangements at 119 South Broadway, and well they should be.

A thirty-foot addition was recently completed to the building, and the work shop which was until that time located in the rear of the old office, has been moved into the new addition. This arrangement gives thirty feet more floor space in the office, and gives ample room for the force to do their work in.

Two small office rooms have been built at the rear of the large office room for the superintendent and manager of the company. A railing has been built around the office desks, separating the force from the public. This railing is finished with white enamel, and is covered with a light oak, gum-finished top which adds to the splendid appearance of the office.

Women Want Law to Stop Moral Decay

Urge Prosecutors To Take Steps For Preventing Crime.

(By the Associated Press.)
RUSKIN, Fla., Jan. 10.—A panacea for the moral ills of great cities is offered by the Women's Twentieth Century club of this town. The club adopted the following resolution:

"Whereas, the confessions of a New York attorney, who likens his movements in New York society to a gold fish swimming in circles in a glass jar and getting no place; and

"Whereas, the indictment against our criminal system by the retiring state's attorney of Chicago, as reported in the public press of December 6th and 6th, warns us of the menace to human values of a great city where wealth accumulates and moral handicaps decay;

"Therefore, the undersigned urge every public prosecutor to install in his office a department to prevent crime, and put in charge of this department an assistant whose efforts will be devoted in getting all races, creeds and organizations of men and women to co-operate in helping all moral handicaps to obey the law and keep out of jail."

The spacious firmament on high,
With all the blue ethereal sky,
And spangled heaven, a shining frame,
Their great original proclaim:
The unweaned sun, from day to day,
Drops his Creator's power display,
And publishes to every land,
The work of an Almighty hand.

Soon as the evening shades prevail,
The moon takes up the wondrous tale,
And nightly to the list'ning earth
Repeats the story of her birth;
Whilst all the stars round her burn,
And all the planets in their turn,
Confirm the tidings as they roll,
And spread the truth from pole to pole.

What though in solemn silence all
Move round the dark terrestrial ball?
What though no real voice nor sound
Amid their radiant orbs be found?
In reason's ear they all rejoice,

Forever singing as they shine,

CHECKERED WRAP FOR MOTOR WEAR

By Eloise.
The dressy, wrappy coats of the winter season have made it necessary to design simple utility coats for general wear. Most of the wraps or much to extreme and too ornate or luxurious to be worn for every day wear and so this season more than ever is there a decided demand for a plain top coat for motoring, walking and rough weather. Here is a smart model which was designed specially with the steamer or the motor car in mind.
It is a soft wool black and white checkered material made on long, straight lines with a narrow black belt which may be worn or not as the owner wishes. The coat is trimmed with black fringe at every good opportunity and both the large collar and the pocket flaps are of black. Such a coat will be found very comfortable for the winter motor trips and the ocean voyages.

Preparations Are Being Made for Play at Normal

All final preparations for the Normal school play, which will be given Thursday night of this week, are being made and most of the costumes have arrived. There will be twenty-five costumed people in the play and a total of fifty people will appear on the stage during the evening. The title of the play is "Continental Congress" and is being given under the supervision of the history class.

The tickets were placed on sale at Gwin and Mays drug store at 1 o'clock today and it is expected that a large crowd will be in attendance. Those who have charge of the play are pleased with the showing made by the characters and better ones for the places selected would be hard to find.

For the past month the students have been rehearsing and the art and music departments are also making special preparations for the event. This is the first and probably will be the best play given at the Normal school this year and all are putting forth their best efforts to make it so.

In addition to the regular program several other interesting numbers have been planned and the audience will be well entertained all during the evening.

Church News

Teacher Training Class.
The teacher training class at the First Baptist church started off last night in a great way. We had present about twenty who enrolled in the class. We are studying the New Convention Normal manual, the Bible division of the book. This book gives a most wonderful scope of the Bible and is of great value to any one if they would have a connected idea of the Bible.
Last evening we had the first two chapters in the Bible division of the book. Tonight we will study the next three chapters. If there are those who did not get to come last evening and they desire to take the course, it will be alright for them to come tonight and join the class. We will be glad to have any one in town come. You do not have to be a Baptist to get in this class. There is nothing sectarian about the course at all.
The class begins at 7:15 and closes at 9:15. The pastor is teaching it.

PREDICT FAILURE FOR PROPOSED BIG OIL DEAL

TULSA, Jan. 11.—Tulsa oil men today freely predicted that the project of the Export Oil corporation

It was pointed out that the corporation negotiating the deal for a foreign government, had offered a minimum of 20 cents a gallon for the product and refineries are now selling some of the product for 18 cents.

BUSINESS GOOD AT ADA POST OFFICE

Only Matter of Time Until Office Will Reach First Class Rating.

An analysis of the business done at the Ada post office during the first half of the present fiscal year shows that the business outstripped all records for any previous like period of time, and fell but little short of the prescribed average which would place the office in the first class.

Fiscal years in the postal department run from July 1 to June 30, and the year is divided into quarters, of three months each, for accounting purposes. During the quarter, which ended December 31, 1920, the Ada post office sold $9,224.66 worth of postage stamps. The established rule requires that an office sell $40,000 worth of stamps during the fiscal year to entitle the office to be rated first class, and if the record established during the period mentioned is maintained through the balance of the fiscal year, the office will have approached to within slightly over $3,100 of the first class.

Growth Not Spasmodic. The office reached the second class several years ago when the yearly sale of stamps reached the $8,000 mark, and it now occupies the top rank among the second class offices of the state. There are but few first class offices in the state, and the attainment of that position would speak well for Ada, indeed. It was explained by those connected with the office that there is nothing spasmodic about this good showing. The business of the post office, like all the other businesses of the city and indeed, the city itself, is the result of a slow but healthy and continuous increase. It is this growth continues as it has continued in the past it is a matter of only a short time until the office will reach the first class.

The report also shows a 50 per cent increase in the number of insured parcels handled during the quarter just past, over the same period last year, indicating that the people are utilizing this important service which was instituted to protect them from the hazard of loss. A 100 per cent increase is also shown on the number of C. O. D. packages handled over last year and substantial increases are also shown in the sale of domestic and international money order.

Christmas Business Good. Christmas business this year is said to have been 33 1-2 per cent better than last year, and this is thought to have been the case at most of the offices of the state. The folks were late about starting, but when they did start the business all came at one time. Notwithstanding this Christmas rush, the business was handled without congestion which has marked the Christmas seasons of former years. This was due, largely, to the use of a motor truck which was allotted to the office this year.

While a count is not made of the number of letters and parcels handled in the course of the year, an actual count of the number of pieces of first class mail forwarded was made for the six days from December 6 to December 11, inclusive, and it was found that 51,657 letters were mailed through the office during those six days. The count referred to above was made to determine the volume of business done, and when a report was made of this big business the office was furnished with an automatic stamp canceling machine which does away with the old-time way of canceling the stamps, and has made the routine work of the office more pleasant for the force. The post office itself is roomy and is said to be one of the most convenient ly arranged for the force of any office in the state.

Burden Lifted.

A great burden was lifted from the Ada office, as well as all the leading offices of the seventy-seven counties of the state, when a ruling of the postmaster general established a state accounting office at Oklahoma City to handle the accounts of the smaller offices of the state. This rule was made March 1, 1920, and prior to that time the leading office of each county handled the accounts of each of the smaller offices of the county, which reported to, and received supplies from it. This ruling relieved the Ada office of taking care of the troubles of nineteen other offices.

Handled by Nine Persons. The work of the office is handled by nine persons, and the service is above the average in efficiency. This is due to the fact the persons who come in personal contact with the public are experienced in the business, and regard their posts as an opportunity to be of real service. Postmaster J. W. Westbrook has been in charge of the office five years; Assistant Postmaster W. P. Lee has been in the office six years; Earl Sumner has fourteen years of service here; M. E. Qualis, seven years; Miss Fannie McKinney, seven years; and A. M. Varden, five years.

Five city mail carriers cover the city each day, and five rural carriers deliver mail in all directions from the city each day. One city carrier and one rural carrier were added during the past year.

Changes in Rating. A number of important changes have been made in the general postal service during the past year. Perhaps the most important to the public is the one which went into effect December 15. This ruling permits offices of the first and second classes to settle claims for indemnity arising from the loss, damage and rifling of parcels in transit. A rule established December 27 makes it unnecessary for a receipt to be taken for special deliveries. Early in the year the postal savings law was enlarged, and placed on a better and more convenient basis for the public. The business for the third quarter, which will end March 30, has started off in a way which indicates that the good showing made during the first two quarters of the year will be maintained.

Harding's Majority 7 Millions When The Counter Stopped

(By the Associated Press.) NEW YORK, Jan. 9.—Interesting comparison of the popular vote for president in 1920 and 1916 are made possible by the official figures of various state election canvassing boards, compiled by the Associated Press, and made public here today. They show a total popular vote of 26,759,708 for the candidates of seven parties as compared with a total popular vote of 18,515,340 for the candidates of five parties in 1916. The returns from Tennessee alone are unofficial.

Harding's plurality over Cox was 7,001,768. Four years ago President Wilson's plurality over Charles Evans Hughes was 591,385. New York state gave Harding a vote of 1,868,411, his largest return in any one state, as compared with 780,744 for Cox. Ohio, the state of both the republican and democratic candidates, gave Harding 1,132,022 and Cox 780,037. Illinois gave them, respectively, 1,420,180 and 534,394 and Pennsylvania 1,218,215 and 503,202.

The 1920 vote for Eugene V. Debs, socialist candidate, was 914,869, while in 1916 Benson polled only 583,113. Four years previously, however, Debs rolled up a vote of 897,011. The socialist party vote in New York state was 200,114, a gain of 157,170 over 1916 and of 159,733 over 1912. Debs polled only 28 votes in South Carolina and 38 in Idaho, while in Vermont the party filed no nomination.

Dr. Aaron Watkins, nominee of the prohibitionists, polled a total vote of 187,470, a decrease of 23,036 from the party vote of 1916. Out of a total of more than a half million votes cast in North Carolina, the "dry" candidate received 37,000. Georgia gave him 8. Greater New York, including New York, Bronx, Kings, Queens and Richmond counties, with a total vote of 4,276,765, polled 1,660 "dry" ballots.

The total vote polled by Parley Christensen, farmer-labor nominee, was 252,435, all cast in eighteen states. Cox, the socialist-labor candidate, received 42,950 votes and Macaulay, nominee of the single tax party, 5,747.

DENISON MAKES MONEY FROM FISH POND

(By the Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8.—Denison, Texas, has set an example to other municipalities by furnishing to its citizens sport and a valuable food supply and to itself a source of revenue.

Small lots of black bass and sunfish were supplied to Denison by the government in 1915, 1917 and 1918. These were deposited in Denison's two sources of water supply and they multiplied.

Theroupan Denison's city fathers proceeded to derive some revenue. Annual angling permits were issued at $8 each and daily permits at 50 cents each.

In the last fiscal year $1,099 was gathered in from the angling permits. Fifty-seven annual and 1,286 daily permits being issued.

SYMPTOMS WOMEN DREAD

Mrs. Wilson's Letter Should Be Read by All Women

Clearfield, Pa. "After my last child was born last September I was unable to do all of my own work. I had severe pains in my left side every month and had fever and sick dizzy spells and such pains during my periods, which lasted two weeks. I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound doing others so much good, and thought I would give it a trial. I have been very glad that I did for now I feel much stronger and do all of my work. I tell my friends when they ask me what helped me, and they think it must be a grand medicine. And it is. You can use this letter for a testimonial if you wish."—Mrs. HARRY A. WILSON, R. F. D. 5, Clearfield, Pa.

The experience and testimony of such women as Mrs. Wilson prove beyond a doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct such troubles by removing the cause and restoring the system to a healthy normal condition. When such symptoms develop as backaches, bearing-down pains, displacements, nervousness, and "the blues," a woman cannot act too promptly in trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound if she values her future comfort and happiness.

A Fable In Slang

By our own

Brick Wall Mason

Now the outlook wasn't brilliant as he lamped about the place; anyone could see his finish if he didn't change his pace. All his shelves with goods were burdened, bought by box and barrel and bale, in a market that was tilted and had cost him scads of kale. With the season fast advancing and with goods that ought to sell, he at least agreed with Sherman, war most certainly was — Well, it is strange how fearsome fancies flit across the troubled mind, and the fear of going "bughouse," left the thought of Bug behind. In days ago when trade was brisk, when he felt so sure and smug, he'd refused a Selling Service represented by a bug. With his business prospects brightest he declined with such disdain, that the "print-smith" who had asked him never spoke of it again. But, thought he, with storm clouds rising, better seek most any port than to drift in troubled waters ending in the Bankrupt's Court. So he beat it to the print shop, to Ye Ed be-gan to moan, "What's that Advertising Service? Beat it in my ivory dome."

Maybe we should have a moral to adorn this little tale 'bout this Advertising Service turning "Stickers" into "Kale." And that we should give in detail how the Service pulled him through, but we'd rather spend the same time showing what 'twill do for you.

CALVIN BANDIT IDENTIFIED BY TULSA POLICE

MUSKOGEE, Jan. 10.—Hershel Well of Tulsa, was the bandit killed in a battle with a posse at Calvin, Oklahoma last Thursday, according to the officials of Calvin.

The identification was made through the Tulsa police by a suit of clothes bearing a Tulsa store trademark and a bottle of medicine bearing the prescription label of a Tulsa druggist.

W. W. Wilson and W. A. Reese, the latter a former deputy sheriff, who were shot by the bandits, are slowly recovering at their home at Calvin.

Notice. The basketball games between Francis and the Normal that were scheduled for last Saturday night were called off on account of lights and will be played Tuesday night. First game starts 7:30 sharp.

Basketball Game Is Postponed on Account of Lights

The Francis-Normal basketball game, which was scheduled to be played last Saturday night, has been postponed until Wednesday night and will be played in the Normal gym, the first of the two games beginning at 7 o'clock. The games, which will be played by the A and B classes of the two schools, were postponed on the account of the bad lights in the building. The lights have been fixed now, however, and the games can be played without difficulty.

The teams are reported to be in fine shape for the games and the basketball fans will be given a treat on that night. These games will be played under the supervision of the Pontotoc County Basketball association and as the plans have been well laid, it is expected that they will be a great success.

The next game on the schedule will be played on Friday night of this week in the Normal gym, the contesting teams will be the Business College team and the Normal A class team. These three games to be played this week will give the first impression of the results of the league this season, and much interest is being shown as to their outcome.

The lineup for the Normal A class is as follows: Little, center; Harrison, forward; Chism, forward; Sherman, guard; Cooper, guard; Watson, forward; Dorsey, guard.

American
Tom Mix, it is said, has accomplished in "The Cyclone," which William Fox will present today at the American theater, what no other film hero has succeeded in doing—he has surpassed Tom Mix.

This is a stupendous feat, as the thousands of fans whom he has thrilled by his peerless daring in such superb Fox productions as "The Speed Maniac" and "The Feud" will attest. Reports from places where this picture has been shown declare that Mix excites the imagination of his audiences, and whips their blood to mountain torrent velocity by his display of courage and agility.

The story of "The Cyclone" which is a tale of the Canadian Northwest mounted police, deals with a series of stirring episodes leading up to a stunt climax that shows the con-puncher star at his best. This stunt was undertaken by the actor and his director after considerable deliberation. Mix rejected every modification suggested with a view to his personal safety, and insisted upon enacting the crowning episode in all its magnificent daring.

Coleen Moore plays opposite Mix as the covered girl, and is a beautiful, very feminine prize for his very masculine prowess.

The rest of the cast is exceptionally strong, as it necessarily must be to support leads of such high caliber.

AUDITOR TO GET BUSY WITH STATE POSTOFFICES

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 10.—More than $300,000 worth of accounts contained in reports from third and fourth class postoffices in all parts of the state will be audited in the office of John L. Graham, assistant postmaster, here by the end of this month. It was stated at his office. Reports from 1,100 offices covering the last quarter of 1920 are to be checked up.

One of the biggest tasks, according to Mr. Graham, is the checking of 900 accounts on war savings stamps and replacing old issue stamps with new issues. Vouchers from rural mail carriers from all parts of the state are also being audited.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

TRY GRANDMOTHER'S OLD FAVORITE RECIPE OF SAGE TEA AND SULPHUR.

Almost every one knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago, the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, at a small cost.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge, or soft brush, with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after a few other applications or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy and attractive.

What Makes Marriage a Failure?

Happy Wife Banishes Hate, Doubt and Jealousy

Marriage Editor: Here is my story. To begin with, I was married here in Ada 11 years ago. I was 19 years old. I thought I was old enough to know what I was doing, but time proved I did not. I married a man I most dearly loved, and that he loved me, but the time came all too soon when he could not help but show that he did not care for me. I thought I could bear it if he would only care for our baby. I thought I could live with him, and be happy if he only would love it. Well, time rolled on till we were the parents of three children, one little boy and two little girls, and he proved to me he did not care for them.

Well, dear editor, the time had come when my confidence was growing weak. I saw that his pleasures were with his mother and sisters and his children. I did everything he wanted me to do to please him, but the more I did the more he expected of me.

He would not let me or the children go with him anywhere. When I wanted to go with him, he would tell me to stay at home till he got back then I could go. I thought he was ashamed of us, for he knew we did not have clothes to wear out, and him making good money, $12 a day. I lived the life of the oil fields for eight years, in the dirtiest places on earth for the pleasure of staying with him. So he got where he did not care what kind of conduct was carried on around me and his children. He went to drinking, and he would make our little boy drink. This is a shameful story to tell, but I want to tell you what I endured before I made up my mind to leave him. I endured these things for about eight years. He told me he had never seen that woman he could love. "What is a woman, anyway?" Well, I told him I couldn't stand him any longer. He hardened my heart, girls, until I couldn't stand him in my sight. He said I would not do anything. I said well, I wanted to live with him for the sake of my children, so I just hung my head and stayed at home until he got so bad that my love burned to hatred when I left him with not even a meal in sight for the children and myself. I tried living for the Lord that he might help me bear my troubles. I found lots of help in Him, but my dear girls, you can be treated in such a way your heart can be turned to iron. That was my case. I thought why am I left here in this world of sorrow? Is there no happiness in this world of torment? I am bound to live a widow. If I should meet with someone that could love me, I could not live with him for fear the other would bring out some of his threats about the man I should marry. He has told me time after time if I would go back to him, he never would mistreat me. That I can't believe, for I could never love him again. Some folks say love can be kindled again. There is nothing to that, for he could treat me like a baby, and I could never love him enough to be happy with him, for when the love for which you gave up your girlhood days has grown cold, there is nothing to build up from but a cold heart.

Now, girls, beware of young men. Think of mamma and papa, sister and brother at home. They love you, and their love will never grow cold. Take my advice, keep your head out of the oven, for it is hot for every head that is put there. Consider what it means to live in torment.

ANOTHER POOR FOOL.

Marriage Editor: As everything is quiet and no one at home but me I will drop in a few words of contentment and happiness of married life. My husband is much older than I, and he is as true to me as a real, good Christian should be to God and there isn't anyone in this world that could make me doubt him. He works all the time and every penny of his salary goes for the benefit of our home and our pleasure. We have two bright children, one seven years old and a 3-month-old baby and why shouldn't we be happy? My husband never drinks or gambles or swears. He is always at home with me unless he is at work or away on business. Now as the space is small I will not write a long story, but if I had time and plenty space in the paper for it to be printed I could write a long story of confidence and love for husband, and not hate, doubt or jealousy. You may use my name if you wish.

MRS. P. S. CANNANAN, City.

BOTH SIDES OF FARM LIFE SHOWN

Bureau of Crop Estimates Ask for Letters From the People.

OKLAHOMA CITY.—Varied are the reasons set out in replies to a request of the federal bureau of crop estimates and the state board of agriculture to its correspondents over the state, for an item suggesting their viewpoints on the "Advantages and Disadvantages of Farm and City Life."

Approximately 100 replies have been received, a few of those touching on problems both on the farm and in the city, following:

"The greatest advantage of living on a farm, to my mind, is the shelter a farm home furnishes one from the commotion and stir of the world," writes Bertha Rea of Allen, Pontotoc county. "To my mind the greatest disadvantage is that one never has an idea as to what price one can get for what in the very near future, be guaranteed a living wage or he will be forced to cease to produce." Mrs. Rea's letter contains more farm advantages than disadvantages. "The advantages of farm life are in the reduced living expenses, the absence of undesirable associates and healthy amusements for our children," says Mrs. Luther Young of Beckham county. "The disadvantages produce. The farmer must have the lack of proper schools and conveniences, the insect pest and unfavorable weather conditions."

Motor cars have made farm life much more attractive for Mrs. R. D. Manchester of Kiowa county. "Nearly all farmers have the advantage of motor cars and can attend all shows, meetings, fairs, etc., which take place in the city," she writes. "We can have water and lights in our homes, fresh milk, eggs and butter and our own meat. Last, but not least, is the fresh air, non-congestion and sunshine, which goes for good health." Mrs. Manchester does not outline any disadvantages of the farm.

"One disadvantage of living on a farm is that we work hard all the time for starvation prices," declares Mrs. Carrie Russell of Stephens county. "The one advantage we have is plenty of pure milk and butter to eat with our corn-bread."

A. A. Hill of Beckham county writes: "Market conditions are such that industry is practically paralyzed. Scarcely anything is moving; everyone is very much discouraged, but we are all hoping for better times soon."

Poor people are better off in the country than in city, in the opinion of Mrs. N. G. Whitte of Pottawatomie county. "If people are financially able they can better enjoy life in the city. If they want to do as I do, they can go to Sunday School and church and enjoy Christian privileges."

J. T. Richard of Ottawa county declares "there is nothing in farm life because we are not allowed the cost of production on what we sell."

Mrs. E. M. Abernathy, president of the Security State bank of Lexington, writes the following: "There are many advantages of living in the country rather than the crowded city. The wonderful freedom of living in the big outdoors, the beautiful scenery, pure air, good, cool water, fresh vegetables, and all those good things to eat that one can raise with a little effort, is worth more than the glitter and tinsel of the city. Have you experienced the difference between eating a peach you picked off that tree on the farm and the peach you bought at the fruit stand where everybody handled the fruit?"

This reason, if correct, speaks well for Speaker's thoughtfulness and discretion.

The Cleveland club was not implicated in any way in the gambling gossip last year. Investigation showed the Indians' park to be free of gambling than any other park. Not one member of the Indian team is given to plunging or "breaking loose." Undoubtedly they could train at New Orleans without being affected by the atmosphere of gambling there. So Speaker does not need the move. He is thinking of the gambling end from the viewpoint of the public. He is aware that the exposure of last year will make the baseball public on the alert for the slightest evidences of indiscretion on the part of the players for some time. He is aware of the fact
